THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

ASK LONGER STAY FOR 'QUO VADIS'

Hungry lions awaiting their Christian victims in Roman arena before Nero and his subjects. Scene from "Quo Vadis," spectacular production now on at the Popular theatre.

"Find it impossible to accommodate demand for seats so great, the attendance at each performance up to capacity and beyond that he has decided to ask for an extension of time. This, he figures, will give everyone in Honolulu a chance to see the best of the moving pictures and an opportunity to witness this stirring drama of the days of Nero and the Romans.

"Tickets for 'Quo Vadis' should be reserved early to insure seats. In addition to the regular evening performance special matinees are being given every afternoon.

BEVANI COMPANY HAS MANY STARS

"No, neither Caruso nor Scotti is a member of the Bevani Grand Opera Company that is coming to the Bijou theatre the middle of this month," laughingly replied J. C. Coien, president of the Consolidated Amusement Company, this morning, when advised that a report was current to the effect that this pair of artists were members of the Bevani aggregation. "It would be ridiculous," he continued, "to presume that we could afford to bring the greatest opera stars to Honolulu and produce the greatest operas in the world at figures ranging from 50 cents to $1.50. Nevertheless, as a result of the congested condition of the operatic field in the eastern states due to the European war, the Bevani company includes many of the greatest singers in grand opera today.

"Some of the Bevani Stars who have won the highest commendation of the Coast critics are Hazel Sanbourne, Louise Sylvia, Emma Vergeri, Bernice Holmes, Giuseppe Opezza, Lida McCord, Signor Cavadore, P. Galazzi, J. Floran, L. Lachmund, Alida Mainwright, David Silva and a host of others.

"Luigi Rocca, the director, also has won the plaudits of the critics and the West is credited with harboring some of the most severe operatic critics in the world. The costumes, according to information to hand from the Coast, is gorgeous and in keeping in every respect with the high-class artists and their productions. The orchestra which comes to Honolulu with the Bevani company has been with the organization for some time past and has accompanied the artists during their successful season at the Columbia and Alcazar theaters in San Francisco, also during a short tour of the state.

"The subscription list that is now in course of circulation is justifying me in my judgment, which was to the effect that Honolulu would support grand opera at popular prices.

"Before the termination of the engagement of the Bevani company—provided, of course the support will warrant it—we will endeavor to arrange for a grand opera season during 1916."

POLITICAL STORY AT YE LIBERTY

When William A. Brady decided to become a producer of photo-plays he determined to obtain the same grip on the situation that he had held for years on the production of animated offerings. Towards that end he set about obtaining the rights to produce as many as possible of the best obtainable film subjects. Among these he secured the rights to "A Gentleman From Mississippi," a daring story of present day political life in Washington, D. C. "A Gentleman From Mississippi" will be presented at Ye Liberty theatre commencing tonight, for three nights only.

Tom Wise, for many years an idol of the theater-goers of the mainland, essays the role of the name part, Senator Bill Langdon, elected to office through the efforts of his "friends," members of a "trust," who have interests in Washington that they wish protected. Langdon is picked as an easy mark who will be at the beck and call of his "friends" to do their bidding at all times.

However, the "interests" figure without their host, as Senator Bill, a man with high ideals and a sense of honor, for which the southland is famed, quickly perceives the scheme of his supporters and proceeds to block their plans.

In the finale the senator is captured by a dashing young widow, while his handsome young stenographer, who furnishes not a little of the comedy of the offering, is won by a young reporter.

"A Gentleman From Mississippi" is a big comedy of life in Washington and has called forth high praise from Theodore Roosevelt and many other prominent statesmen and politicians.

LAUGHS IN 'THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN'

Only two more nights of George Ade's brilliant comedy, "The County Chairman," is the program at the Bijou theatre; this offering, which presents Maclay Arbuckle and Willis B. Sweatnam for the first time in the silent drama in Honolulu, closing its engagement with the performance of tomorrow night in order to allow the management to prepare the theater for the Bevani Grand Opera company, which opens a limited engagement at this theater the evening of April 15.

Anyone who has not seen "The County Chairman" has missed an excellent opportunity to laugh and to laugh heartily. George Ade has gained his reputation through his humorous writings and he never was any funnier than in "The County Chairman." Others who have registered big through this offering are Maclay Arbuckle, to whom has come fame through his clever and perfect rendition of the name part; Willis B. Sweatnam, whose impersonation of the negro, Sassafras Livingston, established his fame in like roles; and Henry W. Savage, who employed this comedy as the vehicle for his entry into photo-play producing.

PHILIPPINES DON'T FEAR JAPAN, DECLARES JUDGE

James Ross, former supreme court judge of the Philippine islands, en route to Manila on the Mongolia, declares that there is no danger of a Japanese war over the Philippines and asserts that the Asiatic islands are entirely capable of self-government, as an independent nation but as a dependent colony of the United States.

"Japan does not want the Philippines," he said just before the boat departed, "as long as the United States has control over the islands. Of course, if this country releases all rights over the Philippines Japan may step in to prevent another power from making the Philippines a war base."

CONGRESSIONAL VISITORS POSTED ON COAST, PLAN

When the members of the congressional party travel to Honolulu from San Francisco on the next voyage of the steamer Sierra, they are to be adequately informed beforehand regarding what they will see in the islands.

This is the plan of C. A. Mackechnie, surgeon on the Sierra, who is going to make arrangements with the Promotion Committee for a complete set of the latest stereopticon slides depicting scenes in all parts of the islands. Dr. Mackechnie will show the slides several times during the trip to Honolulu and now is preparing a lecture which will not only describe each view shown, but will contain information of interest concerning Hawaii.

HAWAIIAN DISAPPEARS: MURDER SUSPECTED

[Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence.]
HILO, Hawaii, April 3.—What has become of Simon Kanui? That is the question that is worrying Sheriff Pua and the whole of the police force on the Kona side of the island. Simon Kanui is missing from his hut on the Hooper ranch at Honokaa, six miles mauka from Hookea and foul play is suspected.

The last person to see Kanui alive was a Porto Rican, Etario, and he has been arrested for investigation. The suspected man has only been married a couple of weeks. Every effort is being made to trace to Kanui and to discover where his body is—for every indication points to his being dead.

The story of the disappearance of Kanui is a strange one, and the only person who seems to know anything about the affair is the Porto Rican now in custody.
